

International Centre for Trade and Sustainable Development

Strategic Options for IP Technical Cooperation
Experts Dialogue on Sustainable Development and Intellectual Property

11 to 12 July 2005
Geneva, Switzerland

Biographies of Contributing Authors and Moderators

Ahmed ABDEL LATIF is Second Secretary of the International Economic Relations Division of the Egyptian Ministry of Foreign Affairs. He formerly served as Egypt's delegate to TRIPS Council and WIPO, and was coordinator of the African Group in WIPO during the year 2004.

Carlos CORREA is the Director of the Center for Interdisciplinary Studies of Industrial Property Law and Economics, University of Buenos Aires. He is currently in charge of the project on Intellectual Property and Innovation at the South Centre. He is a consultant to various agencies of the United Nations, the Latin American Economic System (SELA), the Secretariat of the Convention on Biological Diversity and other regional and international organizations. Professor Correa also served as an Undersecretary of State and Development for Informatics of Argentina (1984-1989), and was a government delegate for Argentina in the negotiations of the Washington Treaty and of the TRIPs Agreement during the Uruguay Round. He is the author of numerous books and articles on technology and intellectual property.

Carolyn DEERE is a Research Associate at the Global Economic Governance Programme at the University of Oxford where she works on its project on developing countries and the global trading system. She is the founder of Intellectual Property Watch and the Chair of its Board, and was formerly Assistant Director in the Global Inclusion theme of the Rockefeller Foundation. Ms. Deere's publications include Greening the America's: NAFTA's Lessons for Hemispheric Trade (MIT Press, with Dan Esty) and a series of reports and articles on issues of global governance, sustainable development, and trade. She holds a degree in Economics from the University of Sydney, Australia and a Masters in International Relations from the Johns Hopkins University School of Advanced International Studies (SAIS), USA.

Michel KOSTECKI is Professor at the Faculty of Economics and Social Sciences of the Université de Neuchâtel (Switzerland). He has been founding director of The Enterprise Institute at the same university (1992- 2001) and directed, during two years, the joint doctoral program in Management Science of the French-speaking Swiss universities and the Federal Institute of Technology in Lausanne. During the Uruguay Round Dr. Kostecki was Counsellor in the GATT secretariat in Geneva. He was Investment Manager at a financial company of one of the leading German banks and Professor of Business Economics at the Université de Montréal (HEC) in Canada. He has published extensively on International Trade, Consumer Behaviour and International Business.

Jakkrit KUANPOTH is currently a senior lecturer at the Faculty of Law, University of Wollongong, Australia. He was formerly at Sukhothai Thammathirat Open University, Thailand. He is a graduate of Ramkhamhaeng University, holds an LLM from Warwick University and a PhD from the University of Aberdeen, UK.

Ricardo MELÉNDEZ-ORTIZ is co-founder of International Centre for Trade & Sustainable Development (ICTSD) and its Executive Director since 1996. He co-founded and was Director General of Fundacion Futuro Latinoamericano, Quito, and has held positions as Charge d'Affairs, Counselor, and First Secretary at the Colombian Mission in Geneva and Principal Adviser to three Colombian Ministers of Economic Development. He has served in various capacities in international fora, including as negotiator and delegate for the Uruguay Round, the UNCTAD VIII and the UNCED process.

Souheir NADDE is the Head of the Multilateral Unit at the Lebanese Ministry of Economy and Trade in Beirut. In this capacity, she provides legal advice to the Ministry with respect to IP issues and coordinates the activities of international organisations, in addition to participating in IP-related negotiations. In the past, she has also worked in the fields of IP consultancy, academia, and national media. She is also Secretary of the Lebanese Intellectual Property Organisation (LIPA) and has completed studies at the law faculties of George Washington University, Montpellier University, and Lebanese University.

Tom PENGELLY was formerly Deputy Head of the Secretariat for the UK Commission on Intellectual Property Rights, where he focused mainly on copyright and IPR administration/enforcement issues in developing countries. He has devised and lectured EPO Academy seminars in 2003 and 2004 and was Project Director for the Resource and Management Audit Project of the IP Office of the Philippines. Mr Pengelly has provided advisory services on intellectual property reform and capacity building to national IPR working groups in Tanzania, Ghana and Sierra Leone and has authored several publications in the field of IPR related technical assistance and capacity building. He has over 11 years experience in a wide range of sectors and contexts within development co-operation, including a number of positions for the UK Department for International Development, and assignments for the World Bank, UNCTAD, ITC, USAID and DANIDA.

Pedro ROFFE is Senior Fellow at ICTSD and Director of the Project on Intellectual Property and Sustainable Development. Mr. Roffe is a former staff of the UNCTAD secretariat (Geneva), and was Head of the Division for Science and Technology and Special Senior Adviser to the Secretary-General of UNCTAD. In UNCTAD he was responsible for advising governments on the formulation of policies on transfer of technology, foreign direct investment and intellectual property. He is the author of numerous articles and books on the above subjects.

Manuel RUIZ MULLER is Program Director of the International Issues and Biodiversity Programme at the Sociedad Peruana de Derecho Ambiental (SPDA), Lima. He has been working in environmental law and policy related issues since 1990. His areas of expertise include genetic resources, biotechnology, intellectual property and indigenous peoples issues. He is member of the Environmental Law Commission of IUCN and member of the Board of Directors of Public Interest Intellectual Property Advisors. He has been a consultant for FAO, Andean Community, IDB, IUCN, WRI, ICTSD, UNCTAD and other international organizations.

Susan D. VILLANUEVA is a professorial lecturer on intellectual property law at the College of Law of the University of the Philippines, where she obtained her Bachelor of Laws degree. She has a Master of Laws degree from Yale University. She was a co-author of "Utilizing Trips Flexibilities For Public Health Protection Through South-South Regional Frameworks" published by the South Centre in April 2004.